1. Next Capital Campaign – Mr. Carter Boydstun, Senior Philanthropic Advisor, UFF, provided an introduction to the next Capital Campaign. The campaign is scheduled to run until 2021 and is currently active. During the next three years, the Foundation in conjunction with the President’s office will work with each college to develop the themes and initiatives for this Capital Campaign. Dr. Perri discussed key themes in PHHP including: rehabilitation, public health and health administration. It was noted that some themes will involve multiple colleges. The committee discussed the possibility of looking to individuals outside of UF alumni for support. The importance of targeting PHHP alumni based on their department affiliation was also emphasized. While no assignments were given to the committee regarding these documents, it was noted that this topic would be revisited in the future.

2. Action Items Follow-Up
   a. Revisions to space – Ms. Burn reported that she has received information about space from Clinical and Health Psychology and Biostatistics. AP: Chairs are to look at square footage and determine if any underutilized/subpar space can be relinquished and notify Andrea.

3. Announcements –
   a. Dr. Vandenborne announced that she received a top score on a large multicenter grant renewal.
   b. Dr. Bisesi announced that EGH PhD student Cuc Tran successfully defended her dissertation. The three students who completed internships in Haiti will be presenting in an EGH seminar this week and again at Research Day on April 8th.
